

C-BARQ scores for your dog

Here are the results of the C-BARQ evaluation for your dog, Koa, relative to the population averages. These population averages are based on all appropriate dogs in the C-BARQ database.

Scores for Koa

Your dog's scores (colored bars) compared to the population average (diamond)

The scores for the following behaviors were also concerning:

Moderate concern: pulling on leash

SHOW TABLE OF THESE SCORES

PRINT THIS PAGE

What do the bar colors mean?

The bar colors for your dog's scores are determined by how far they differ from these averages, and on the likelihood that the differences will present a problem.

- Green: Either close to the average and/or very unlikely to pose a problem in this area of behavior.
- Yellow: A somewhat higher or less desirable score than average and may pose a minor problem.
- Orange: An even less desirable score and corresponds to a moderate behavior problem.
- Red: A level that most experts would consider serious or severe, depending on the particular behavior involved.
- Gray with stripes: An incomplete score. There were too many questions answered with "not applicable/unknown" for us to calculate a meaningful value.